1-day Human Rights and Health Inequalities awareness workshop:

This workshop helps participants understand the way that human rights, advocacy, and health inequalities relate to their workplace and lives. We will cover the MAT standards, the Charter of Rights, and other relevant standards, guidelines, and legislation. We will introduce various tools and frameworks, with activities to build practical skills in a rights based approach. Participants will leave with an improved understanding of how to embed a human rights-based approach, with tools and frameworks for improving local service delivery.
